

Is It Really WORTH It ?

It has been brought to our attention that many members are not very pleased with Worth Sports since they were taken over by Rawlings Sports. We became aware of this at the recent SODA Summit in Las Vegas.

Some of these complaints include:

- a.) Mis-shipments of goods,
- b.) Late shipment of goods,
- c.) Shipping of wrong product, (Wrong core and compression)
- d.) Promise of "Free Goods" yet none materialized,
- e.) Freight Charges charged when they were to be "Free Freight",
- f.) Not being credited for "return goods" promptly or at all,
- g.) No sponsorship or promotional money, or goods that had been promised,
- h.) and so on, and so on

We think that from the input we have received thus far from SODA members in NY, OH, TX, OR and elsewhere, that there is a serious problem with Rawlings Sports.

We would like to hear your stories with problems you have encountered since Rawlings took over Worth Sports.

We will publish all the war stories and see if we can get to the bottom of the problems as a group. Obviously, Customer Service is NOT #1 with Rawlings ?

Some members have been selling/using Worth products for over twenty years.
